

Argumentative Essay About Social Media Advantages and Disadvantages

Imagine that 20 years ago the only way to stay in touch with a person was to mail a letter. In a modern world with the invention of social media, people can converse with someone using the internet and get a response within seconds. Although in the course of time all generations have started to take advantage of the novation's that social media has brought about, teenagers and young adults are the most active users of these networks.

According to numerous research studies in the area of online social networks, it has been shown that such sites are impacting the lives of the youth significantly. Understandably, there are a lot of different opinions about its positive and negative influence. Nevertheless, social media plays a huge role in our society, it connects people all over the world, provides an opportunity to work or study being at home and it gives space for self-expression.

Involving in numerous sorts of social media has become a daily activity for most teenagers and grown-ups. According to a survey, 22% of adolescents log on to their preferred social media site more than ten times a...show more content...

We cannot deny the evolution of technologies because due to its development a lot of things are changing day by day. Undoubtedly, social media has its advantages and its disadvantages. The idea of social networks should not be abandoned just because they sometimes have some negative effect on person's conscience. The disadvantages could be eliminated by raising these issues publicly. The networks are continuously developing and trying to reduce adverse problems.

To sum up, although there are drawbacks to using social media it should still be used for its benefits and advantages such as connecting people from all over the world, giving them more opportunities for work and study, allowing self-expression and entertainment. Moreover, if people become aware of potential danger that comes with misuse of social networks, then those will be eliminated eventually. After all, it is up to everyone to use the technology responsibly and reasonably.